ALL ALONG THE LINE.

A retired United States army officer now at San Diego, who draws a comfortable salary from the national government, now seeks a second public salary by trying to become the Mayor of that city and claims that he has the right to do so.

Again a believer in divine healing who would not send for a doctor when sick or take any medicine whatever, has become a victim for the Coroner. The trouble with the faith cure, like many other alleged cures, is that it is not a cure-all for all physical infirmities. The patient not infrequently dies in spite of the faith that is in him.

A grand slaughter of gophers is to take place on the China ranch this week. Poisoned wheat is the medium which is to put the pests out of existence. There is not as much hilarity about this sort of sport as in a jack rabbit drive; nevertheless, it is well that the gophers must go.

A speech is delivered in the San Diego Council chamber upholding the opinion that San Diego should not be burdened with an additional $100,000 debt for a municipal electric plant, when a $1,500,000 debt was recently voted for a city water and electric proposition combined. It seems rough on the taxpayers to ask them to go into debt twice for the same thing.

The Los Alamitos beet-sugar factory promises to greatly augment the wealth and population of Orange county. Already the new town feels the need of a schoolhouse, which the County Supervisors in their wisdom have seen fit to deny. It will not be long before the growing population of this locality will compel the County Fathers to be more liberal.

The general manager of the Northern Pacific expressed the opinion, in an interview yesterday at Pasadena, that freight rates in the United States are as low as it is possible to make them. This may be true of the country at large, but the thumb-screws have been applied relentlessly to California shippers. The enormous reductions in rates which followed the opening of the Valley road last fall showed the conscienceless greed with which Uncle Collis had been milking the people of that part of the State. It is one of the many traits that have endeared him to the public.

Lost His Thumb.

Fred Wilson, a fifteen-year-old boy, who lives at No. 1503 Olympia street, was playing hide-and-seek in the Southern Pacific Railway yard at Fifth street last evening. He crawled beneath a pile of heavy rails, another boy climbing on top. In some way one of the rails became loosened and falling caught young Wilson's right thumb between it and another rail, flattening it out. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, and Dr. Hagan amputated the top joint of the thumb. The boy was put to bed in the hospital.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

SUDDEN DEATH OF EX-MAYOR FRANK RADER.

He Died of Neuritis of the Heart at Elsinore, Whither He Had Gone for the Benefit of His Health—Funeral Arrangements.

Ex-Mayor Frank Rader was found dead in bed at the Lake View Hotel at Elsinore Sunday morning. A brief message to this effect was dispatched to The Times by C. S. Traphagen, manager of the hotel, yesterday morning. A similar message was received by Henry T. Newell, Mr. Rader's old business associate, about the same time. Upon Mr. Newell devolved the painful duty of breaking the sad news to Mrs. Rader at her apartments in the Hotel Lincoln.

Although it was known to many that the ex-Mayor was not in good health, the suddenness of his death was quite a shock to his friends. He had for some time been subject to attacks of neuritis of the heart, which caused him severe suffering, but he retained a healthy look and cheerfulness of disposition which led none to suspect that his days were so nearly numbered.

During his late term of office he had a severe spell of sickness, aggravated by a gripe, so that his recovery at one time seemed doubtful, but he pulled through and during the last year of his life none but his intimate friends knew that he had any serious ailment.

Lately he confided to his friends that his trouble was getting worse, and about a week ago he decided to go to Elsinore, one of his favorite resorts, to take the baths. Mrs. Rader desired to accompany him to take care of him, but he advised her to remain at home to complete her wardrobe for a contemplated tour abroad, saying that he would be well cared for at the Lake View Hotel and that she would have no cause to worry about his condition.

After Elsinore was reached, good reports were received from him, and he seemed to be growing stronger all the while. About sunset Saturday evening he took a long walk to the top of one of the hills adjacent to the lake, for the purpose of enjoying the view. He did not appear to be fatigued by the exertion, and during the evening was in his usual good spirits, retiring at his regular hour and accordingly as well as at any time since his arrival at the hotel.

As he did not rise at his usual hour Sunday morning, and as no answer came to repeated knocks at the door of his room, an investigation was made, and he was found dead in bed, lying on his right side and looking peaceful as though he was merely asleep. Indications were that he passed away while sleeping and had been dead for some hours when discovered.

The Coroner of Riverside county was promptly notified and held an inquest in the afternoon, the verdict being that of death from causes, the nature of the heart apparently being the direct cause.

Mr. Newell, after notifying Mrs. Rader of her husband's death, chartered a special train of the Southern California Railway, to go to Elsinore after the remains. The special left La Grande Depot at 2:30 p.m. With it went D. G. Peck of the undertaking firm of Peck & Chase Co., Walter F. Parker, clerk of the late Mayor, and J. W. Long. They returned with the body at 11 p.m., and it was at once taken to Peck & Chase Co.'s undertaking rooms for embalming.

Mrs. Rader was completely prostrated by the bereavement which so suddenly befell her. As soon as she had sufficiently recovered, she left her apartments at the Hotel Lincoln and went to her residence, her father, Giles S. Dewey, No. 142 West Jefferson street, whence the body of her husband will be removed after embalming.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but the obsequies will be under the auspices of the Scottish Rite Masons. The wishes of the family will be consulted, and if agreeable, the solemn midnight burial service of the Scottish Rite Masons will be held at Masonic Temple Tuesday night, and at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, the regular funeral will take place under the auspices of Southern California Lodge, F. and A. M., and the Knights Templars. A meeting was held at Masonic Temple last evening, at which the funeral arrangements were discussed, but no definite conclusion was reached.

Frank Rader was born at Easton, Pa., about thirty years ago. After taking a college course he began life as a schoolteacher, afterward engaging in the newspaper business in Northern Ohio. Later he settled down in the hardware business at Clyde, O. He was an ardent Freemason, taking all the successive degrees until he acquired the thirty-third degree, being one of the very few who attained such prominence in the order in this State. He first came to California in 1883, when he attended the Knights Templars' convocation at San Francisco. Returning to Ohio, he sold out his business there, and came to Los Angeles to live, the principal cause which prompted him to come here being consideration for his health, which he felt at that time was breaking down. His health improved very much, soon after his arrival, and he at once engaged actively in business, forming a partnership with H. T. Newell, which continued until the present time. During the boom Newell & Rader handled a great deal of real estate. They also erected several buildings. Besides being a heavy real estate owner, Mr. Rader was also at the time of his death was director of the Merchants' National Bank, and of the Home Building and Loan Association. In 1894 he sought and received the Republican nomination for Mayor, and was elected by a handsome plurality over two opposing candidates. It was at first his intention to be a candidate for reelection, but he changed his mind before the meeting of the Republican convention, and did not enter the lists for the nomination. It was Mr. Rader's intention to travel extensively during the coming summer, a trip to Europe being one of his cherished hopes. His family consisted only of himself, wife and stepson. For the last few years he had resided at the Hotel Lincoln.

[Cleveland Leader:] They had been sitting in the dark for a long time. Suddenly she asked: "Have you a match?" "No," he replied, "but if you'll help me I can make one."

The cards are out.

[Indianapolis Journal:] "Wine," said Chollie, "always goes right to my head."

"Shows an almost human instinct, doesn't it?" said the disagreeable girl.

"Aye, 'show'."

"In looking for a soft place."

[Cleveland Plain Dealer:] "What is your present circulation?"

"I would be glad to let you know, sir; but unfortunately our circulation affidavit-maker has just experienced religion."

[Detroit Free Press:] "This is all rot about pure grit winning success."

"How so?"

"I sank a fortune in a grindstone factory."

[Comic Cuts:] "They tell me your servant is a jewel," said a caller.

"Yes," replied the hostess, wearily; "she's so much more ornamental than useful."

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY

ANTI-EXPECTORATION ORDINANCE WANTED.

Cheap Electric Lighting and Power. Too Much Water for Baseball. School Census Coming - Reception to Capt. T. H. Goff.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 28. - [Regular Correspondence.] During the warm months there is a great need of an ordinance in this city similar to the one in force at Los Angeles in regard to the sidewalks for cuspids. There has been considerable discussion upon this subject, but without any practical move thus far.

CHEAP LIGHT AND POWER. San Bernardino has the cheapest electric lighting of any city in the country where the light is obtained from private parties, street lights being only $6.50 per month, yet the subject of owning their electric-light plant by the city authorities has been much discussed.

SAN BERNARDINO BREVITIES. The rainy Sunday prevented an excellent game of baseball between the home team and the Ontario club. The last game was decided 3 to 1 in favor of the former and there was great interest in another game between the two teams.

CHINO, March 28. - [Regular Correspondence.] There is to be a wholesale slaughter of gophers on the Chino ranch. The land company has made a big purchase of poisoned wheat, which it will use on its own land, and sell the rest to the farmers.

MEN OF MARK.

Mr. Kipling has completed a new story of about 12,000 words, to which he has given the title of "Slaves of the Lamp."

Chong Lee, a Chinese boy 19 years old, who was born in San Francisco, had just entered a Baltimore grammar school.

Charles Reade once gave a receipt for writing novels to a young novelist now well known. It ran thus: "Make 'em laugh; make 'em cry; make 'em love; make 'em hate."

King Humbert of Italy is the most heavily insured man in the world. The amount of insurance he carries is over $7,500,000.

Fred F. Hassam, the Boston antiquarian, has in his possession a bottle of the tea which, on the night of December 16, 1773, was emptied from the British vessel by the Boston Tea Party.

Pederewski, who has been taking a long rest, is expected in London next month, where he will take the solo part in a new Scottish fantasia for piano and orchestra by Sir Alexander C. Mackenzie.

ORANGE COUNTY.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED FORGER FROM LOS ANGELES.

Stopped at Santa Ana on His Way to San Diego and Was Gathered In-Dimmit Again a Very-much Wanted Man.

SANTA ANA, March 28. - [Regular Correspondence.] Sheriff Nichols and Deputy Urm of this city, working in conjunction with Detective Frank Steele of Los Angeles, effected what appears to be an important arrest here this morning.

Deputy Sheriff Urm, after visiting several lodging-houses, found Barber or Wheeler at the Excelsior, registering under the name of B. F. Wheeler of Eugene, Ore., asking what time the next train would leave for San Diego.

WHERE IS DIMMIT? The whereabouts of Thomas H. Dimmitt is a question which is just now exciting much inquiry and speculation among those who have had occasion to note the recent doings of this notorious individual.

MISSOURI OFFICER was expected yesterday, but up to this afternoon has not put in an appearance, and his arrival is still anxiously awaited by the officers in Aurora.

BREVITIES.

The County Jail yard is being converted into a veritable garden by the application of hot labor. Grass will be planted as soon as possible where cereals have been raised.

LOS ALAMITOS, March 28. - [Regular Correspondence.] The splendid showing made by the Los Alamitos during the line of development during the last few days has been a matter of pride to the Orange county people.

THE CORONADO BEACH COMPANY has transferred to the United States government the tract of land known as the Coronado Hotel, to be used as a mortar battery site.

JOSEPH J. Southern was married to Evelyn J. Southern at Los Angeles by Justice Solon Bryan in this city last night.

Capt. Marion P. Mans, U.S.A., has started for Washington, D.C., to join the staff of Gen. Nelson A. Miles.

Mrs. M. B. Harrison of Omaha is building a $1400 cottage on Flora avenue.

PASADENA.

A RAILROAD MAN'S VIEWS ON THE SUPREME COURT DECISION.

General Manager Kendrick of the Northern Pacific Thinks Freight Rates Already Too Low - Prof. Lowe Has Returned from His Eastern Trip.

PASADENA, March 28. - [Regular Correspondence.] General Manager Kendrick of the Northern Pacific Railroad, who arrived in Pasadena several days ago in his private car, with a party of friends, was asked today for his opinion as to the results of the recent Supreme Court decision declaring the Transimssouri Freight Association illegal under the Sherman anti-trust law.

It seems rather hard, said Mr. Kendrick, "that the railroads should be the first to suffer from a judicial interpretation of the law, when so many other combinations exist. It is absolutely necessary that railroads should have some agreement for the maintenance of rates. Rates in this country are now very low, and much lower than in Europe."

PROF. LOWE HAS RETURNED. Prof. T. S. Lowe reached home today, after a two months' absence in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other eastern cities.

ELECTRIC-LIGHT AGITATION. The absurdity of the proposal to have this city contract for an additional debt of over $100,000 for an electric plant, in addition to the $1,500,000 already contracted for a water system, which water contract includes electric power is appreciated by some Councilmen.

SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

The jury in the inquest over John F. Staley, the teamster from Los Angeles who was crushed by the cars at the intersection of Broadway and Broadway, returned a verdict.

DR. L. E. Keeley, Dwight, Ill., the Keeley cure man, has arrived at the Florence, where Mrs. M. A. Lukin, Arm of Florence, Schuyler Grant, Mrs. Florence Grant, Detroit, Dr. and Mrs. Burnham, Cleveland.

A DESPONDENT BARBER

HIS BODY FOUND IN A LUMBER YARD.

From a Letter Found in the Pocket, The Suicide is Supposed to Have Been Jose G. Gomez, Late of Fresno.

The dead body of a man was found between 6 and 7 o'clock yesterday morning in the yard of the Williamette Lumber Company, corner of Sixth and Alameda streets. From certain papers found in the pockets it is supposed the man was Jose G. Gomez, a Spanish barber, lately from Fresno. Deputy District Attorney James' wrath rose high. It was said at the time that Mr. Gomez had refused complaints to the officers arriving Chinamen for selling lottery tickets on the ground that the prosecution was long, tedious and expensive, and that it was impossible to get a jury which would convict upon the slim evidence that the arresting policemen offered. This he denies. Mr. James, however, did say that he would refuse complaints to officers arresting Chinamen unless the policemen agreed that the Chinamen should plead guilty and receive the regular fine of $15, then and now the limit imposed for selling lottery tickets. If complaints would not be issued, arrest could not be made, so there was nothing for the officers to do but to comply with the request of the Deputy District Attorney. While Mr. James had no direct authority for refusing the complaints to the officers under any circumstances, still the lottery business had been given into his hands by Maj. Donnell, the District Attorney, with the understanding that he was to conduct the affair as he saw best.

The lottery business has now reached a stage where the arrested Chinamen regard the payment of their fines as so much license collected by the city. Time after time the same Chinamen are arrested for the identical offense, and, owing to the decision of the deputy district attorney, pays the $15 fine, which is then given back to the prisoner. Deputy James admitted in the presence of two reporters that the Chinese regard this payment of a regular fine as a license, but he urged that the difficulty of a conviction in a jury trial made it a necessity that the fines should not be increased. Of course, there has been no violent unrest between the Chinese and the District Attorney's office regarding the amount of the fine to be imposed, but from long practice there has grown a test agreement that in the case of an arrest a fine of $15 shall be collected, and the arrested Chinaman shall go free, in each case returning to his illegal occupation.

Chief Glass is determined to put an end to the Chinese lottery business, and Dist. Atty. Donnell promises him full support. In case an arrest is made, a jury composed of business men will be subpoenaed, and the case will be pushed to its fullest extent. All the witnesses in the case will be held so that no evidence can escape.

The Chief believes the imposition of a few $500 fines will discourage the business.

HE REFUSED MEDICINE.

A TRAVELING SALESMAN'S CAREER CUT SHORT.

The Coroner Had to Hold an Inquest Because John C. Bryce Would Not See a Doctor When He Was Sick Unto Death.

He was a believer in divine healing and positively refused to see a doctor. "Throw physic to the dogs," was his creed. That is why the Coroner found it necessary to hold an inquest over the remains of John C. Bryce.

Bryce was a traveling salesman for a large crockery house at Portland, Or. His home was at Astoria. He was a very sick man when he arrived at the Natick House about a week ago, but refused to let the hotel people send for a physician, saying he had no use for doctors. He also refused all proffered of medicine, because he did not believe in physic. He was finally prevailed upon to have a nurse, but he gradually wasted away, and died last Saturday. The nurse tried to get him to take a little whisky as a stimulant, but he would have none of it.

The body was taken to the Peck & Chase Co.'s morgue, where an inquest was held yesterday afternoon. The verdict was that death was due to phthisis, probably hastened by lack of medical attention. A trunkful of books on the subject of divine healing was found among the dead man's effects. Constant study of this so-called science probably accounts for his refusal to take medicine or see a doctor.

Bryce was about 30 years old. His body was much emaciated by disease. A telegram was received by the undertakers from his brother-in-law, Stanley Grimes, of Sacramento, instructing them to prepare the remains for shipment to Astoria. Mr. Grimes is expected to arrive from the north this afternoon to take charge of the remains.

The deceased was a member of the Knights of Pythias.

A WILY MONGOLIAN.

A Young Man Makes a Disturbance and is Arrested.

Sometimes young men come in from the country and make mistakes that land them in the City Jail. That is what Walter Burris did when he attempted to "bluff" a Chinaman yesterday afternoon by flourishing a pistol in the Mongolian's face.

Burris had never seen a Chinese woman and yesterday he made a trip to Alameda street to view some of the yellow beauties. His rude, coarse remarks led a Chinaman in the vicinity to advise him to leave the place. Instead of so doing Burris is alleged to have pulled his pistol from his hip pocket and to have waved it in a large manner. The cunning Chinaman made no attempt at escape, but merely called Officer McGraw, who drew the unwilling youth away and lodged him in the City Jail on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

[Harper's Bazar:] "What do you wish, madam?" said the election officer to Mrs. Tempus. "I have already voted once today. You voted before noon, you know."

"Oh, yes, I know that," replied the voters, "but I want to change my ballot."

WAR UPON LOTTERIES.

PREPARING FOR AN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN AGAINST CHINAMEN.

Chief Glass and the District Attorney's Office Will Co-operate in Enforcing the Law and Ending the Farrel Prosecutions.

A war against the Chinese lotteries will soon begin, and then let the gambling Mongolians keep an eye peeled. These gambling contrivances have been running wide open, and the comparative immunity that they have enjoyed from prosecution has been due to the fact that witnesses that would give evidence and juries that would convict have been very hard to obtain.

There are now about sixty-three Chinese lottery games in full operation in the city. Originally there were about ninety games, but in the last two months the police and the constable's office have broken up fully twenty-five games. On one night alone Constable Harry Johnson tore up the drawings of nine games, in each case securing the books of the firm, so that resumption of business was made impossible for the time being. These captures were not all made in Chinatown, but on Spring street, in the rear of livery stables, and in the adjacent blocks.

When a Chinaman was arrested for selling lottery tickets or for being concerned in the conduct of a lottery he, fearing that he would be held to the full extent of the law, would plead not guilty and, on coming up for examination, would demand a jury trial. By the time that the case came around on the next day, the witnesses called by the police had disappeared, and time and money were wasted in a futile effort to secure a conviction. Finally, however, the District Attorney James' wrath rose high. It was said at the time that Mr. James had refused complaints to the officers arriving Chinamen for selling lottery tickets on the ground that the prosecution was long, tedious and expensive, and that it was impossible to get a jury which would convict upon the slim evidence that the arresting policemen offered. This he denies. IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

Liberated from Custody, Richardson is Arrested for Burglary.

George Richardson, alias Casey, has again got himself into trouble. Richardson was arrested last week by Detectives Goodman and Steele for attempting to pass a worthless Confederate bill on the landlady of a Main-street lodging-house, but he was liberated because there was no direct charge that would touch his case. Detective Goodman, however, watched the man from the time that he left the station, and now Richardson is back again suspected of having committed a burglary. When searched, upon his person were found some lock-picks and two skeleton keys, wrapped up in an old silk handkerchief, and concealed beneath the waistband of his trousers.
